Professional Practices of Human Resource Management in Hong Kong Anna P.Y. Tsui 2009-08-01 Faced with external and internal challenges such as globalization, social changes and responsiveness to customers, technological development, cost containment and structural changes, organizations now experience increasing levels of competition. Evidence has shown a positive relationship between HR practices and business performance outcomes such as increased profitability and productivity. Indeed, HRM practices influence employee skills through the acquisition and development of human capital. Also, the use of well-designed performance management systems and pay-for-performance incentives are important motivations in the workplace. Written by HR professionals, consultants, legal experts and academics with decades of professional experience, this volume covers the full spectrum of HRM practices in relation to their strategic contributions to organizations. In a hands-on and lively fashion, it provides up-to-date HRM knowledge and skills with practical guidelines. The purpose of the book is to enhance people management and gain competitive advantage in the fast-moving business environment.

Transportation Security Administration Stephen M. Lord 2010-02 The Transportation Security Admin.'s (TSA) Transportation Security Exec. Service (TSES) consists of exec.-level staff serving in key agency positions just below political appointees. Questions have been raised about the frequency of turnover within the TSES. Accordingly, this report examines: (1) TSES attrition and how it compares with that of Senior Exec. Service staff in other cabinet-level departments; (2) the reasons TSES staff separated from TSA; and (3) TSA efforts to manage TSES attrition consistent with effective management practices. The report analyzed data within the Office of Personnel Mgmt. Central Personnel Data File, reviewed TSA human capital policies and procedures, and interviewed former TSES staff. Illustrations.
